Senator Anderson Requests 1-Year Extension To Enact Inspection/ Maintenance Program

Senator Howard P. Anderson of Halifax, Chairman of the Virginia Air Pollution Control Study Commission today communicated with Mr. Douglas M. Costle, Administrator of the United States Environmental Protection Agency in support of the request by Governor John N. Dalton for a one year extension on State action in order for the Commonwealth to enact an Inspection/maintenance program as mandated by the Clean Air Act amendments of 1977. Inspection/Maintenance is a concept whereby motor vehicle exhaust systems are required to be inspected for emission violations.

The State Air Pollution Control Study Commission was formed by the 1978 Session of the Virginia General Assembly in order to provide legislative guidance to the Air Pollution Control Board in making necessary changes to the air law. The Commission has spent a considerable amount of time and effort specifically analyzing the requirements for Inspection/Maintenance Programs in non-attainment areas. The non-attainment areas in Virginia consist of Northern Virginia, Roanoke, the Richmond area and Tidewater. Non-attainment areas are those localities failing to attain ambient air quality standards as are prescribed by the Environmental Protection Agency. Although the Commission unanimously endorsed the Inspection/Maintenance concept, it was felt that an additional year of study would be necessary in order to determine the best method of implementing a sound and cost effective program. It was further agreed that additional technical analysis were necessary to implement the program.

L. H. McCue, Jr. Honored

The Central Virginia Chapter of the March of Dimes is honoring the late Lynchburg civic leader L. H. McCue, Jr.

The Chapter is naming its annual health scholarship program for the former E. C. Glass High School principal, who also served for many years as Scholarship Committee Chairman for the March of Dimes.

McCue was involved with the March of Dimes for a total of forty years, heading the scholarship program from 1972 until his death October 11 this year.

In that time, the number of scholarships offered by the Central Virginia Chapter has grown from three to nineteen, with both two hundred and four hundred dollar scholarships available today.

McCue was Principal of E. C. Glass High School from 1944 to 1968. He was extremely active in Lynchburg Civic Affairs throughout his many years in the city.

The L. H. McCue, Jr. Memorial Health Scholarships are available to high school, college, and university students who intend to pursue careers in health-related fields.

Applications will be available in January through local high school guidance counselors and at the Central Virginia March of Dimes Chapter office.

GIRL SCOUTS HAVE FUN

The girl scout Troop 322 met at the Methodist Church, November 18, 1978 to get ready to go to Skateland.

The people in girl scouts who couldn't skate, learned. Everybody had a fun time.

After skating we went over for a pizza cook-in at Sandy Walton's house. Everyone enjoyed it.

While we were there we celebrated Sandy's birthday. Then we went back to the church to meet our parents at 7:30 that night; and the Girl Scouts had a fun time.

The Pastor Speaks

I that speak unto thee am He. John 4:26.

One of the great questions about Christ had to be answered by Him. His enemies were indifferent about his greatness. Many of his friends were uncertain or nervous about speaking out. Who are you? What are you up to? The few words spoken on this occasion are a great revelation. I am "He" go out and tell the story. This inexpressable announcement was to be realized through certain enlightening experiences. For instance let us consider these;

1. Revelation. Those who worshiped idols had what to them was an advantage. They could say, we see our god". It remained for God to place before man something of his likeness apart from the created material world. This was to be seen in Christ. The Christ to behold was not flesh and blood. This was the medium of Spirit. Go tell what you have found through the guest at the well. The great revelation, Christ identified Himself.

2. Emancipation. Christ called attention to many situations which were in need of solution. Listen to these, "He hath sent me to heal the broken hearted, to preach deliverance to the captives, and recovering of sight to the blind, to set liberty them that are bruised." Every generation has testified in support of these declarations. He shed the light that has challenged mankind.

3. Proclamation. Christ came into a world of narrow exclusiveness. Trouble was ahead for him. Who was interested in hearing him say. The kingdom of heaven is at hand. "The kingdom is within you." His message was needed the world wide, and his kingdom was world wide. No nation had an exclusive claim on the Love of God. He offered some guidlines. If ye love me keep the light of your soul clean, and take up your cross and follow me.

THE BIBLE AND DAILY LIVING

By Dr. William L. Trimyer

HOW THE BIBLE PROVIDES

Lesson for December 10, 1978

Background Scripture: Psalm 119:33-40; 2 Peter 1:16-21; 2 Timothy 3:14-17

"Give me understanding, and I shall keep thy law; yes, I shall observe it with my whole heart."

THE BIBLE AS A POSITIVE FORCE

One wonders if things would have been different for the "victims" of the People's Temple mass suicide if the biblical standard of life in Christ had been an operative factor. The Jonestown community is perhaps a case in point of a misguided interpretation of life. Whenever we choose alternate paths over the tried and proven ones, we may be headed for disaster. The Psalmist instructs us that creative living comes from observing the Word of God.

A friend of mine sometimes describes his financial condition when he says, "I am as broke as the Ten Commandments!" Yes, they are broken, because we live in a broken world, inhabited by broken people. The writer of Psalm 119 helps us to understand that God's Word can be a healing force in a alienated and broken world. He also helps us understand that there is a reward for simply observing the laws of God. Being good has merit!

But the writer is not talking about memorization of words, but observing the words in one's daily living. Some persons pride themselves in being called a "walking Bible," simply because they memorize books of the Bible. Memorization is well and good, but unless the words touch the bases of daily living, the mere memory of words is fruitless.

Teachers help children internalize what they read in their lesson books. Simply memorizing what they see on the printed page may not be the best method of learning. Likewise, knowing and living the laws of God makes one wiser than the teacher who knows everything except the laws of God.

THE BIBLE IS AUTHORITATIVE

Timothy instructs his readers to "hang close" to the scriptures. God's Gospel is not a myth but an eyewitness report! It is not hearsay; it is "thus says the Lord." The early apostles looked deeply into the eyes of Christ and related to us not only his words, but also his significance for all of life. They proclaimed his words as bright rays for a dark world, a dark heart, a dark life. Indeed, the Bible reveals the sure road and provides secure footing in a "slippery" world.

We note also that the Bible is no longer interpreted by the priest only. The layperson is free to interpret the Bible, but both priest and layperson must do so responsibly. Some people make the Bible say what they want it to say and miss what it may be saying to them.

The Word of God is reliable because He stands behind His Word. The Christian message is not a mythical fabrication like some cults, but it is founded in a flesh and blood Person-Jesus of Nazareth.

WHAT THE BIBLE PROVIDES

The Bible is a friend. God's Word is not a pill that quickly wears off. The Bible is good for a lifetime! Even children find help within the Bible for growing up. In our Vacation Bible School the children recite a pledge to the Bible each day.

I pledge allegiance to the Bible, God's holy Word, and will make it a lamp unto my feet, a light unto my path, and hide its words in my heart that I may not sin against God.

What does the Bible provide? It provides discipline, help for positive living, and reveals who God is and what He is about. It also equips men and women to serve Christ in his Church.

The Bible is a rich resource for meeting life's challenges and facing life's pitfalls.
